BROOKLYN'S BLAZE

The Adelphi Academy Visited by a Destructive Fire.

Damage Estimated to Be Nearly $100,000.

Supposed to Have Started in a Pile of Rubbish.

An exciting fire visited the Adelphi Academy, on Lafayette avenue, corner of St. James place, in Brooklyn, early this morning, and after gutting the old wing and an adjoining building, was finally got under control, but not until many thousand collars' worth of damage was done.

Janitor Ewing sleeps with his wife and four children in an apartment on the first floor. A door opens from the hallway into the basement, where several hundred pounds of rubbish was stored.

Shortly before midnight he was awakened by a feeling of suffocation, and upon going into the ballway saw a narrow blade of flame in the rear of the basement and the place was filled with clouds of smoke.

Ewing ran back and awakened his family. and they escaped to the street, with but little clothing. An alarm was sounded and the fire apparatus responded almost im-little ciothing. An airm was sounded and the fire apparatus responded almost immediately.

Three alarms were sent out, and then several special calls. The people in the neighborhood were thrown into an uproar of excitement.

The flame, after eating its way through the cellar, went up through the floor to the second story and thence to the third.

The blaze creat along the side of the middle wing until it had reached the top floor, and the roof soon iell.

The blaze creat fumbled in with a crash.

The hiremen sought to save the chapel, but their work was of no avail, and at 1.20 o'clock the roof tumbled in with a crash.

Finally, after two hours and a half hard work, the fire was gotten under control.

The burned portions include the greater part of the oid building, where the Preparatory and Academic Departments.

It is reported that Frof. B. F. Brown, the penman, had suffered the loss of a beautiful engressed copy of the Lord's Frayer, which took the prize for decorative penmanship at the Paris Exposition. It required all years in making it, and Frof. Brown valued it at several thousand dolars.

Prof. Albert C. Perkins, the Principal, in speaking of the conflagration this morning said: "Of course it is unfortunate that we should be visited by fire, but this is the best time in the year for it, as we were preparing the close the school for the Winter holidays. We have now arranged to reopen again on Jan. 6, that losing but one week.

"The flames did not reach the new building, where all the scientine departments are located, or we should have met with a much greater loss.

A trustee said he thought the loss would amount to $100,000.

located, or we should have met with a much greater loss.

A trustee said he thought the loss would amount to $100,000.

Fire Marshal Lewis made an investigation this morning. The jamitor assured him at first that no rubbish had been stored in the room where the fire was discovered, but upon his examination he found a quantity of burned paper, indicating that the waste of the building had been deposited there.

Mr. Lewis was of the orinion that the fire might have originated by spontaneous combustion, or that a hot coal from the furnace may have started the blaze.

THEIR TRIAL SET.

Acoused Dock Commissioners to Be Heard To-Morrow.

Dock Commissioners Post and Matthews, charges against whom for malfeasance and culpable neglect of duty have been presented to the Mayor by the Commissioners of Accounts, have retained Elihu Root and John C. Cadwallader to defend them.

The accused officials will be brought to trial on the charges at 11 o'clock to-morrow . Connsellor John H. Strahan prepared the charges and will act as prosecutor. Commissioner J. Sergeant Cram is not in-cluded in the accusation, as announced exclusively in The Evenino World's Sporting Extra last night.

Neither Mr. Post nor Mr. Matthews were Neither Mr. Post nor Mr. Matthews were at their offices at Pier A when The Evenno World reporter called this morning.

It was reported that they were closeted with their counsel preparing their defense to the charges of the Commissioners of Accounts, but neither they nor their counsel could be found.

The Commissioners of Accounts announced, with an air of supreme satisfaction, that they had do e their duty in the matter and were done with it.

When asked why it was that Commissioner Cram's name had been emitted from the charges, inasmuch as he participated in the leasing of the oystermen's per and buildhead and other acts which are set forth in the specifications, Messus, Holshan and Barker were salent.

specifications, Messus. Holahan and Barker were silent.

Neither Mayor Grant, Corporation Counsel Clark nor Mr. Strahan had anything to say regarding the charges, each awaiting the developments which to-morrow will bring forth.

It is thought probable that Commissioners Post and Matthews will ask for delay to prepare their defense, pleading the short notice which has been given them.

Such an appeal will, it is said, be met with no concession, as toric is no new matter set up in the charges, which are based entirely on the testimony taken in the recent public examination, and with which the Commissioners are entirely familiar, and copies of which they have provided themselves with.

FOUGHT IN THE THEATRE.

Rosie Afterwards Denied Her Relatives in Court.

Rosie Bianvelt, a pretty brunette, was arraigned at the Tombs Police Court to-day. Her aunt, Mrs. Gathum, of 132 Delancey atrect, and her sister, Sarah Blauvelt, charged her with being a wild girl and off bad character. Boste donied that the pair were any rela-tion to her and said that she had never seen them before them before.

Everywhere this renowned specialist has lectured on the subject of the complexion she has been met with crowded houses, the remarkable cures of her wonderful Face Bleach preceding her. Face Bleach is not a cos-metic, as it does not show after application, but is a real skin medicine, and has the same effect on the face as our wearing apparel by friction has on the rest of the body. It cuts the calloueness from the rest of the body. It cuts the callousness from the pores, allowing a free passage to the surface of the blood's temperaties, thus removing plumples, aone, moth, freelies, blackhands, a loopness and any discretion to the bottle, $2 here, but the conference of the c

HER FORTUNE COMES.

Aged Mrs. Hamilton's Inheritance Secured at Last

The Christmas which is so near at hand will be indeed a happy one for Mrs. Sarah Hamilton, of Monmouth street, Jersey City, who for years has been experiencing the expectations and disappointments of an English Court of Chancery, so vividly described in Dickens's "Bleak House."

Mrs. Hamilton is heir to an estate that was once valued at £23,500, but which has accumulated interest for forty years, until it now amounts to over $200,000. This sum will shortly be paid to Mrs. Hamilton, who is greatly in need of it.

'Yes, it is true that I have been successful in my client's interests, "remarked Lawyer Samuel D. Haines, to an Evening World reporter this morning, "and she will soon get her money. It has rightly belonged to her for years, but her interests have been
